

OUR STORY

Rooted in northern Indiana, The Conrad Grebel Furniture Collection is hand-made by Amish and Mennonite woodworkers that are truly masters of their craft. Our craftsmen pour years of experience and care into every detail to ensure the quality and virtue of your furniture. Building the furniture one piece at a time, instead of on an assembly line, our craftsmen use timeless construction techniques such as dovetailing and mortise and tenon to ensure each and every piece is durable and sound. Made of solid oak, maple, cherry and walnut, our furniture is built to stand the test of time and be a cherished heirloom for your family to pass along to future generations.

Raised in the Mennonite church, Chad Gascho, president and founder of The Conrad Grebel Furniture Collection, believes that the same values his faith is built upon are the same with which his furniture should be built: with integrity and character. He and his wife Tera, believe it is important to pass along these values to their three children; it's their family legacy. Our furniture is built to be that cherished heirloom that you pass along with your legacy to future generations.

Building fine furniture to serve your needs is our business. Sharing in your life and memories is our privilege.

THE CONRAD GREBEL DIFFERENCE

The difference is in the details and that is why we use time-honored techniques to join and finish our furniture.

Confident that our furniture is exceptional in every way, we warrant our furniture for a full five years against any natural defects and a lifetime against joint failure.

The precision involved is evident. The artistry is timeless.

MADE TO BE USED

Our furniture is made to be used for generations. The finest heirlooms are those that have stories to tell and memories to cherish. Your Conrad Grebel heirloom will become part of your family.

Furniture is only as good as its finish. We use the finest stains, including Danish oil, to bring out the character in the wood. Each piece is then finished with our own Conrad Grebel Guard.™ Instead of using a lacquer-based finish, which can lead to yellowing wood, our varnish is mixed with a hardening component to create a rock-hard surface. Think of it as a plastic-like film with a barely-there low sheen that protects your furniture from everyday spills and accidents. Conrad Grebel Guard will resist water, alcohol, warm dishes, marring, scratching, and even nail-polish remover.
